

New Industry Guidance + Take Our Industry Impacts Survey

MBA Calls for Whole of Industry Reopening

This week, Master Builders ACT will continue to bolster our efforts to get the industry reopened in a safe way. The acceptance by the ACT Government that certain construction projects and support services can continue or restart during lockdown, is evidence that the construction industry can safely reopen during lockdown with appropriate safety protocols in place. The MBA has worked constructively with the ACT Government and other industry stakeholders to develop these protocols over the past week.

Importantly, we want to see all sectors of our industry reopened fairly and equitably as soon as possible.

We will provide Members with regular updates throughout the week as we progress with our advocacy efforts. Be rest assured, we are exploring every possible avenue to get the local construction industry safely reopened.
